PRESS RELEASE

LG LAUNCHES A&N POLICE APPS & DISTRICT POLICE WEBSITE

Prof. Jagdish Mukhi, Hon'ble Lt. Governor of A & N Islands visited the Police Headquarters at Atlanta Point on 09.09.2016. The Hon'ble Lt. Governor was welcomed by the DGP and an impressive Guard of Honour was presented.

Welcoming the dignitaries, the Director General of Police Shri Rajesh Malik informed that the occasion was, "Launch of online A&N Police App, District Police websites" and other audio visual aids for promoting safety and security of our islands. He said that in the last DGP/IGP conference the Prime Minister had exhorted all the DG's to gauge the effectiveness of the "public or police delivery system" by the fact that how it benefits the last "man in the line". He further said that Government system should be for the needy, the poor and the socially powerless and that no progress can be called meaningful unless it empowers the poor and makes the voice of "Socially backward" audible in the system and provide last mile connectivity.

He further informed that our new Lt. Governor Prof. Jagdish Mukhi, a well known social worker and social reformer himself, echoed the same sentiments, in his first meeting with all the officers and emphasized on working for the poor and the down-trodden sections of the society which has further strengthened the resolve to work harder to provide an open air, transparent and honest police system to these islands.

Quoting to a verse of Arthur C Clarke that "any sufficiently advanced tech. is indistinguishable from magic", he said, that "Technology" in a very real sere is transforming policing in fundamental respects. It is the incumbent duty of every Government department to ensure an open accountable, responsive and accessible "public service delivery".

He is further said that the Andaman & Nicobar Police in the recent past has taken up a number of significant steps with a view to provide better service to the people. By using the advancement in technology the Police will be able to serve the people in a better way. The A & N Police is fully committed to serve in a transparent and honest manner.

Hon'ble Lt. Governor Prof. Jagdish Mukhi, exhorted the Police to be people friendly. The Police must develop a good rapport with people especially the vulnerable viz. the elderly, women and children. He said after launching the A & N Police Mobile app and District Police website at the Police Headquarters here this morning that the general public can use this application to ingress any of the Police portal services apart from district and police stations specific information.

The Lt. Governor also released a News Letter of A & N Police and a CD containing video clipping on social issues. Stating on the occasion he said that A & N Police is an integral part of the Administration and that the Police must adapt to the issues of our societies and to handle the issues concerning ordinary citizens, in the best possible manner. He also emphasized the importance of beat system of policing for strengthening administration and police at the ground level. The Hon'ble Lt. Governor also awarded "Commendation Certificates" to the NIC and other officials for assisting the A & N Police in launching various. A Short Film on Traffic safety and drunken driving was also screened in the presence of other senior officers of A & N Police and media persons. The Hon'ble Lt. Governor emphasized the vitality of the online application launched by the police department and also expressed his confidence in A&N police in successful implementation of these initiatives.
